New Rector for Winona Church

Former Hamilton Boy Successor Rev. H. A. West As Rector Of St. John's Church, Winona.

Rev. Donald H. MacLennan, a former Hamilton boy, but for almost four years in Palermo, as rector of St. Luke's Church, has resigned his position to take over St. John's Church at Winona, to succeed Rev. H. A. West, who was recently appointed to St. Mark's Church, Orangerie. Rev. Mr. MacLennan will preach his farewell sermon in Palermo on Sunday, May 5, and will assume his new charge on May 12.

Rev. Mr. MacLennan was born in Hamilton, and is the son of D. R. and Mrs. MacLennan, of 150 Beratonia Avenue North. He received his early education in the public schools and collegiate institute in Hamilton, and was member of St. George's Church. After leaving the collegiate he graduated from Moody's Institute, Chicago, and later graduated from Wycliffe College, Toronto. He married Miss Margaret Jones, daughter of Thomas Jones, of Hamilton Beach. His parish at Palermo was his first one, and has been a busy one for him, as he has gradually extended his field of endeavor in that vicinity, having established missions at Onagh and Fenton, all three of which he attended each Sunday. In his new location he will have but the one church to care for.

Arrangements Are Made for Spraying

Agricultural representatives of the Niagara Peninsula held a conference and problems of the district were discussed. There was a full attendance and the session was in charge of Mr. Harcourt, chemist of the O.A.C., who spoke on fertilizers, and H. McLennan of the O.A.C., who gave an address on fruit and vegetable growing.

Fruit Reports

Favorable reports on this season's possibilities from a producer standpoint were given.

Considerable plowing has been completed, but there is a lot yet to be done, and wet weather has delayed work. Fall wheat in the area is exceptionally good and clover also promises to yield heavily. Some seeding has been undertaken and many acres of early potatoes have been planted.

GRIMSBY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Blossom Time Musical Festival

As announced last week, this event will take place some time in May during the blossom season. It will be held in the high school auditorium and is intended to serve as a closing feature of a course of study in singing which was begun last October. This new department of the school's activities has been under the direction of Mr. G. L. Eaton, who as a music teacher and entertainer, needs no introduction to the people of this district.

The importance of music is being more fully recognized as of real educational value, in all up-to-date schools, so by introducing the study of it in this way, Grimsby school is only living up to its reputation to be

Spray Service

E. J. Muir, of Grimsby, was appointed to assist W. G. Merritt in spray service work, and organization plans are now well advanced. Spray has been applied in many orchards and the many inquiries indicate the popularity of this project. The officials will keep constantly in touch with the work and the co-operation of growers augurs well for the success of the 1929 campaign.

Scouts of English cherry trees are well advanced in bud, it is reported, and this crop promises to do well.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture has appointed E. R. McClellan to be assistant agricultural representative here for this season, and Mr. McClellan will assist Mr. Merritt in his many duties during the next few months.

Police Searching For Bandits

Several Clues Followed By Police But Fail To Reveal Beamsville Bandits — Border Points Closely Guarded — Gun Used By Bandits Found.

Every clue received in connection with the men who robbed the Brantford branch of the Bank of Commerce last Tuesday is being closely followed. Provincial police are on the warpath in the Grimsby district following a report from Alfreda, seven miles from here, stating that a large blue touring car containing six men had hurried through its main street at about sixty miles an hour. Inspector William Stringer, in charge of the chase for the Beamsville bandits, immediately went to Alfreda accompanied by Provincial Constable W. Embleton and Chief of Police Jubilee.

Mr. Stringer is of the opinion, reports from Beamsville stated, that there is every possibility the men seen escaping through Alfreda may have been the perpetrators of the raid on the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch in Beamsville. Local officers in the district think the men may have been making their way towards the Caledonia district or towards Welland. The men stopped by Customs officials at Walberton as suspects of the Beamsville robbery were later found to have had no connection with the robbery, it is said.

Gun Found

Provincial Constable Embleton, Inspector Stringer and Chief Jubilee visited the spot where the bandits changed cars and found hidden behind a straw stack at the side of the road a Remington automatic shot gun fully loaded and cocked. Police believe that the gun was thrown there by the bandits as they changed cars and made their escape.

Grimsby Old Boy Establishes Museum

London, Ont., Dispatch—Quarrels on the third floor of London's new city office building will be assigned to Dr. S. Woolverton to be London's first civic ranger. Dr. Woolverton has endeavored for years to merge municipal authority for the establishment of a museum and in the meantime he has collected thousands of Indian relics, old or pony, geological and zoological specimens. He is planning to transfer all of these to the quarters allotted to him, where he will also bring a collection of local public items and historical data. It is probable that a number of paintings bequeathed to this city by Dr. and Mrs. Woolverton will be kept at this nucleus museum until plans can be prepared for a permanent home.

The home of H. K. Griffith, on the Niagara highway, a short distance west of Grimsby Beach road, was severely damaged in the early hours of Saturday morning. The house was awakened by sounds of fire. She aroused her husband, and on investigation it was found that a fire had broken out around the chimney. By prompt action they put the fire out, as they thought, and went downstairs.

A short time later a passing motorist saw the roof burning and notified Mrs. Griffith. Both Grimsby and Beamsville fire departments were called, and it took them some time to bring the fire under control. The roof was destroyed and the upper part of the house gutted. Most of the downstairs furniture was carried out, but the upstairs furniture was lost. The loss is only partially covered by insurance.

THE NEED OF A SEWERAGE SYSTEM

The overflowing of septic tanks and the drainage of foul water, according to the health authorities, have created one of the worst situations ever experienced in this community, and the Board of Health has been in receipt of many complaints regarding conditions which prevail generally throughout the town in this respect.

The Board is, unfortunately, handicapped in remedying the situation by lack of a sewerage system, and can do little to correct conditions unless one is installed. The situation has therefore directed attention to the necessity of installing an up-to-date sewerage system to serve the town, and it is likely that every consideration will be given to this important matter.

To permit prevailing conditions to continue, in the opinion of the health authorities, is but inviting a situation to develop which may result in a serious epidemic, although fortunately the precautions taken by the Board have thus far been effective in maintaining the health of the community.

The installation of a sewerage system will, of course, involve the expenditure of a considerable sum of money, but the maintenance of the public health is such a vital consideration that the necessary steps to remedy the present unsatisfactory situation should not be delayed longer than is absolutely necessary.

The extent of the outlay involved makes it desirable that the people be given an opportunity to vote on the question. It would appear that the time has arrived when serious consideration should be given to this vitally important matter.

REJOICE IN KING'S RECOVERY

King George's message to the Empire, just issued, is regarded as marking the definite end of his long illness. The people of the British Empire, as well as those of other nations, will sincerely rejoice in the welcome tidings contained in the King's message, and will earnestly hope that nothing will occur to impede his complete restoration to his former health and strength.

It was eminently fitting that His Excellency, Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, should have dispatched a message to His Majesty, King George, on behalf of the Canadian people, assuring him of their joy in the tidings that he is now well on the way to recovery.

THE BEAMSVILLE BANK ROBBERY

The daring daylight robbery by four masked bandits, which occurred at Beamsville last week, again illustrates the difficulty of coping with desperate and heavily armed thugs who have been all too successful in their raids upon banks and institutions in which public funds are kept. The freedom with which they used their guns indicated that they had no compunctions about shooting their way to freedom and that serious consequences would follow any attempt to apprehend them. Nevertheless, the police chief of the neighboring village, who happened on the scene at the time, did all in his power to defeat the object of the bandits. He is credited with being responsible for staying their hands and preventing them from securing a considerably larger amount than that taken, by his attempts to frustrate their efforts, although he could do comparatively little with the odds so heavily against him.

The robbery shows the need of having a specially organized, mobile and compact force of police officers equipped with high-powered cars in constant readiness to respond to any calls for assistance. It is understood that the provincial police authorities now have under consideration plans to more effectively cope with situations such as that which developed at Beamsville. The success of bandits in their attacks on institutions and citizens of various communities throughout the province calls for still more stringent measures to protect the public.

OBSERVES ITS 35th ANNIVERSARY

During the past week The St. Catharines Standard has been receiving the felicitations of its friends on the occasion of its 35th anniversary. The event was marked by the occupancy of its new home, the installation of a new press and the addition of other facilities which will place it in a position to still more efficiently serve its field.

This virile daily publication, which is so well serving its constituency, was founded in the year 1891 by the late ex-Mayor W. B. Burgoine, of St. Catharines, who was not only an enterprising and progressive newspaper publisher but a public-spirited citizen who lost no opportunity to further the interests of the community and the larger interests of the province and Dominion. His successors have maintained the high standard set by the founder of the Standard, which has continued to expand with the steady growth of the Niagara Peninsula.

The Independent is pleased to join in the felicitations extended to The Standard on the occasion of its 35th anniversary.

PROMINENT AGRICULTURIST PASSES

The passing of the late George C. Creelman, former president of the Ontario Agricultural College, which occurred at Beamsville the other day, has elicited many expressions of appreciation of his splendid contributions to the cause of agriculture in this province. His record of achievement in the advancement of scientific agriculture, particularly as head of the O.A.C., will stand as an enduring monument to his memory, while his geniality, great heartedness and kindness won him a large circle of friends.

Among the impressive tributes paid to his memory, that of Rev. Canon Cody, a personal friend of the late Mr. Creelman, delivered at his funeral the other day, truly expressed the sentiments of his fellow citizens and friends. In the course of his references to Mr. Creelman's worth both as an agriculturist and as a man Canon Cody said:

"We thank God for his public achievements as a great scientific agriculturist, but he was more than that. He was a great humanist and a great human, and when any one comes to the end of his days, has fought his victory and passed on, it is of the man himself whom we think. No one can think of George C. Creelman without thanking God that he was honored by being one of his legion of friends."

"His policy was always influenced by his belief that agriculture was the great basic industry of this country. He believed in the dignity of the farmer's career, and he knew his difficulties and his problems. No man better understood the points of contact between the town and the country. He was always a disciple of concord, and sought to interpret the ideals and opportunities of the farm to others. He was a constructive pilgrim of our agricultural life, and for seventeen years G. C. Creelman and the Ontario Agricultural College seemed the same thing."

THE MENACE OF THE CORN BORER

The County Corn Borer Inspector, Lt.-Colonel Strong, has asked that the Town of Grimsby co-operate in the campaign to eradicate this pest, which has within recent years caused serious loss to farmers and market gardeners through its depredations.

Under the regulations to be enforced, no corn stubble may be left standing either on farm land or in gardens, which must be plowed under as a means of meeting the corn borer menace.

Lack of attention to the requirements of the situation will but result in loss to farmers and others who depend on the corn crop as a source of revenue, and it is therefore in their interests to co-operate in the campaign now in progress. Citizens of the community will naturally desire to assist in controlling and overcoming the menace of the corn borer by supporting the authorities in the matter.

Under the new act now in force, peach trees must not remain in sod, cultivation of orchards being necessary in order to effectively control the Oriental peach moth. This is a matter in which the authorities are also taking and should receive the support of interested citizens.

THE USEFULNESS OF AIRCRAFT

It is interesting to note that general use is being made of aircraft in the crime detection work, a phase in which Canada has developed a high efficiency. A years aircraft has patrolled the entire western coast from Alaska to Vancouver Island, searching for fishing craft illegally using the salmon fishing waters. In one year 24 seagoing craft were caught by aeroplanes which wirelessly informed of the ship whereabouts to government patrol boats in Vancouver harbour the government has made a specialized use of the aeroplane in preventing passengers of incoming steamships from dropping packages of narcotics and other valuable goods overboard to be picked up later by smugglers.

A plane was recently used in northern Manitoba for the first time for the shipment of furs from the remote wilds to the fringe of civilization. Now comes the announcement that an air service from Waterways to the fur-trading posts of Chipewyan, Smith, Resolution, Hay River, Providence and Simpson, is to be inaugurated. Present plans call for four trips a week from Waterways. Two will be to Fort Resolution on Great Slave Lake, 512 river miles away, and return in the same day, and two to Fort Simpson, half-way point between Waterways and the Arctic, flying north one day and returning the next, with stops at intermediate points.

It is obvious that the aeroplane as a means of communication is especially valuable in a country like Canada, where spaces are so vast and distances so great.

Pleading "guilty" to charges of having stolen chickens from Mrs. R. Menilleot of Long Beach, William Clarke Ford and William Robert Rogers, both of that place, were sentenced to one month at hard labor by Magistrate J. C. Massie. This sentence was the maximum for chicken thieving, where the value of the stolen birds is under $10.00.
The plaintiff stated that she and her husband were walking across Cannon Street at Oak Avenue, Hamilton, on the evening of January 22, 1928, when her husband was knocked down by the car of the defendant, dying later of his injuries.
MERRITTON TAX RATE
The Merritton Town Council last week met in special session and struck the tax rate for the year. The rate will be the same as last year, $2 mills for public school supporters, and 35 mills for separate school supporters.

PRECEDENT IN STATES

Public health officials, seeking precedents for the Elfrid outbreak, say that the epidemic of streptococcus sore throat, in Lee, Mass., a year ago, bears the closest resemblance. In that town of 4,000 inhabitants, 1,000 were taken ill, but the disease did not assume the dreadful virulence that has shocked Ontario. It was found that all the infection came from one cow and pasteurization of the milk it turned up the outbreak.

The Model Dairy's milk supply is pasteurized. Pasteurization protects you and your family against an outbreak of septic sore throat and other possible epidemics.

Hints for Housecleaning
Now is the time to hang your husband's pants on the line and give them a thorough heating. This can be done without removing the husband.

During the long winter months dust has crept into all sorts of books and crannies. The thoughtful housewife should sweep carefully under the piano, so, on top of the electric light fixtures and behind the children's cars.

the cell should not be thrown away. String it intervals along a wire stretched across the front steps they never fail to inform you that the old man has come home at last.

Spring is here 'cause every back yard has a bonfire.

Writes of Early Days

Mr. L. B. Marlett of Kansas City, Mo., in renewing his subscription to the Independent, writes of the early days in this district where he formerly resided. Mr. Marlett, throughout the long period of thirty-five years, has been a constant subscriber and reader of The Independent and we are pleased to give space to an interesting letter which follows:

Publisher Independent,
Grimsby, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

Each year when I return for a brief vacation to the dear old Niagara District, and secure comfortable quarters in your Village Inn, I find evidences of change and development. Nature truly has been kind to your district and has spread its bounties with a generous hand. Originally, and indeed when my forefathers found their way thither, the primeval forest with its great oaks, its symmetrical maples, its stately elms, walnuts, hickories, and spreading chestnut trees, largely covered the land west of the Niagara River, and Newark, or Niagara-on-the-Lake was the capital of Canada. Thither those pioneers were obliged to make their arduous journey for the transaction of legal business and at times, indeed, for the staples of life. I vividly recall the transformation made and in process of making in my boyhood days in Beamsville. Vast forest tracts had then been cut over and they were cutting down the few remaining mammoth oaks and shipping them by way of Lake Ontario to England and elsewhere for ship-building. Orchards had been planted but not chiefly for commercial purposes. Later it was found that the soil which had produced such forests was ideally fitted for producing the best fruits.

Nature has done much, but to the sterling character, thrift, industry and intelligence of your pioneers and their successors, much credit is due for the transformation into orchards, gardens, beautiful homes and lawns, which today constitute the "Garden of Canada."

In this renewal of subscription to "The Independent" I am reminded that from that day perhaps 35 years ago when Mr. James A. Livingston was its first editor and publisher, I have been a constant subscriber and reader with unabated interest in the home of my boyhood.

I. B. MARLETT.

MISPLACED MATTER
Dirt! There is no such thing as dirt. What we call dirt is only misplaced matter.

So we spend our days striving diligently to keep misplaced matter in its rightful place. The busy housewife has again been seized with the spring fever. It seems she never was so eagle-eyed for that drab-colored thing she calls dirt. Curtains that we thought kept pretty clean through the closed-in months suddenly look "awful," and that misplaced matter must go back to the earth from whence we think, in some complicated way, it came; in fact every household article from the dainty silken lamp shade that graces my lady's dressing table to the very dusties and brooms that do the work, must go through a grueling process of sifting out this misplaced matter. Surely we were never so particular the whole live-long year as we are just now.

The erstwhile head of the house is glad to quickly vacate and betake himself to his own out-of-door chores among his beloved fruit trees or possibly for a moment's respite from beating of rugs or sifting ashes. He too, suddenly spies misplaced matter in the old chicken pen, the chickens fly here and there with surprised clucks at the energetic clean-up, glad to get out into the quiet yard to scratch and ruffle their feathers in the warm earth, after which it is good to come back to the sweet-smelling straw and to the white freshly-lined roosts and swept walls, so nice it seems, that Lucy and Jemima, two lazy, over-fat hens, find themselves busy scratching away for bits of alfalfa, then feel constrained to lay the long-delayed white well-shaped eggs in the newly-lined nests.

Old Sol himself seems to have put on brand new spectacles to borrow into every corner for has he not house-cleaned the sky? It appears in its freshly clean blue dress, trimmed with pure white puff-balls with never a shadow.

Up comes tiny hepaticas with their fuzzy stems and closed baby leaves in colors of the sky, their sweetness smelling of the cool, pungent odors of the wild wood. Here are the spring beauties in their trim pink stripes. The posy nippes soften the long stiff branches, with their silken heads, each one a gray baby kitten that has died and has found another place to live in this beautiful spring time.

House-cleaning is almost forgotten for the day. The eyes become dreamy and poetic, when suddenly one's mood is rudely disturbed. What is that which dares to flop and buzz in the sunshiny light up and down the newly-washed window pane? The sun plays on its gay shining blue dress and gossamer wings as it flits in ecstasy and humbles down the pane. But no softening glow or thought of "live and let live" enters the housewife's mind when she discovers the intruder. Even the little tot jumps up excitedly and pointing to the window, exclaims, "Mover, a lit. a big, big fly, had fly." Poor fellow, he isn't wanted anywhere.

Evening falls: Robin-red-breast sings his cheery good-night; quiet reigns after the day's labors and well-earned sleep comes to the members of the household to refresh them for the tasks of the morrow.

Y.L.O.C. HOLD BANQUET

The annual banquet and re-organization meeting of the Young Ladies' Organized Class of Trinity Sunday School was held on Thursday evening in Trinity Hall. In connection with the class, a contest has been held for the past three months to maintain better attendance of the members. Miss G. Felker and Miss G. Marshall being chosen captains. The latter's side were the losers as showed their good spirit by preparing a very fine banquet.

During the serving of the supper, community songs and class songs were sung, after which the officers for the ensuing year were chosen, Mr. G. Blair, the teacher taking the chair. Miss I. Addison, who has so well and tactfully served as president for the past year was asked to stand again and as no other nominations were called, with a pleasing speech, she kindly accepted.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were guests of the evening, also Miss Evelyn Ridge of Winona who very kindly gave four delightful readings in a very pleasant manner. Miss F. Atton also contributed to the success of the evening by singing two solo in a charming manner. Mr. Wood gave a short interesting talk on the Bible and its uses, while Mr. Blair was asked to speak on "Holy Ann," a very dear past acquaintance of his, who lived a very noble life. The meeting was brought to a close with a vote of thanks being proposed by Miss A. Lyburner to the losing side for the good supper they had prepared.

The officers elected are:

EUCHRE PARTY

The card party held by the ladies of St. Joseph's Church, last Thursday in LO.O.F. Hall, was a great success. Mrs. C. Hishon, Beamsville, and Mr. F. J. Dearin were the winners of the prizes. While refreshments were being passed, Miss Mary Talton gave a very nice reading which added to the enjoyment of the evening.

SOME RECIPE

Mrs. Newly-wed asked her helpful husband to copy a recipe from the radio that morning. He tuned in on the station but got two stations and could not tune either of them out. He did his best. It went like this:

Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on shoulders, raise knees and press toes, and mix in one cup of milk. Repeat six times. Inhale quickly one spoonful of baking powder. Lower legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Exhale, breathe naturally, and sift dumbbells through pants into water.

Attention! Lie flat on the floor and roll the white of an egg backward and forward until it comes to a boil. In ten minutes remove from floor and rub smarthy with rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels and serve with soup.

CINNAMON BISCUITS

Three ounces butter, 3 ounces castor sugar, 6 ounces flour, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Beat butter and sugar to a cream. Mix flour and cinnamon, and add it gradually to the butter and sugar. Moisten this mixture with the beaten to a stiff paste. Roll out, cut into small round cakes and sprinkle thickly with chopped almonds. Bake in a moderate oven.

TO CLEAN COPPER

Mix lemon juice with salt and rub the copper with it.

There is still plenty of parking space on Easy Street.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 31 of the Trustee Act, being Chapter 150, Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1927, that all creditors and other persons having any claim whatsoever upon or against the Estate or property of Arthur Lewis

Phillips, deceased, will be required to prove the same before the Court of Appeal of Ontario.

In 1926 there was an area equivalent to sixty miles long to twenty miles wide in which all the corn was either reduced or almost totally ruined. In 1928, after two years of the Act there were not more than one dozen fields in the two counties combined either ruined or nearly ruined.

In 1926, sweet corn was so heavily infested in the above two counties that the control methods advised by Prof. Custer, Provincial Entomologist and the Corn Borer Inspectors of Lincoln County, have proven to be effective in lessening the percentage of damage caused by this pest last year as compared with the previous year.

There is every reason to believe that with the co-operation of the farmers and townspeople who have grown corn in their back yards in clearing up crop remnants there will be a further reduction in the damage done in 1929. In proof of this an illustration might be given of what has taken place in Essex and Kent counties, where the damage caused a few years ago threatened to ruin the corn industry.

Flavor Zone Cooking

3 RECENT REVOLUTIONARY INVENTIONS

(1) Giant British Dirigible R-101 which, scientists expect, will revolutionize ocean travel.

(2) The "Talkies", which are completely revolutionizing the motion-picture entertainment field.

(3) Westinghouse Flavor Zone Range which has completely revolutionized cooking methods and which provides for leisure recreation, shopping or the hundred and one things in which a woman of today is interested.

THE basic principles of correct cooking have at last been discovered. Embodying receding heat, in the newest automatic electric range, a higher standard of cooking excellence—which Westinghouse, its creators, have called "Flavor Zone Cooking"—is now definitely established.

In place of haphazard results, this new and exclusive method provides the certainty of cooking perfection.

(1) NEW DELICIOUSNESS

Foods cooked by the New Flavor Zone Range fully develop their natural appetizing flavor.

Their nutritive value, tenderness, juiciness, richness of appearance and digestibility are actually increased.

(2) GREATER ECONOMY

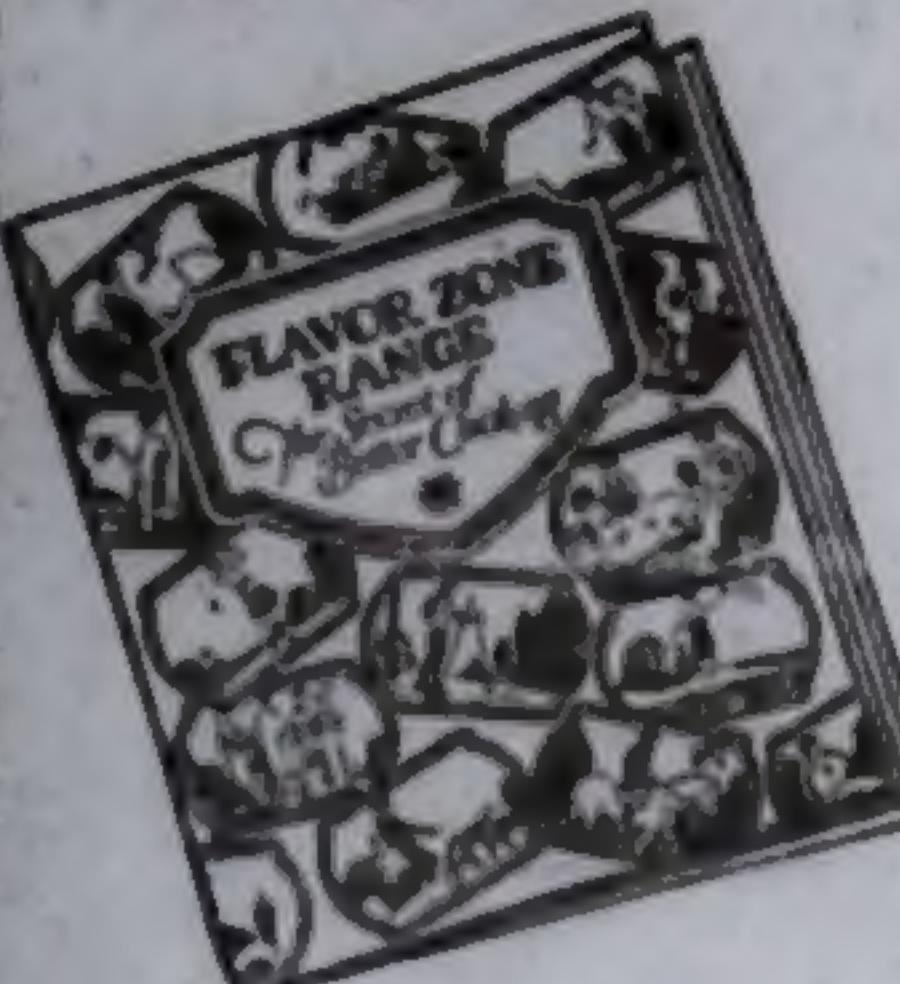

Burning and over-cooking are rendered impossible, and with this important saving of food value, through decreased shrinkage and less waste, there comes also a substantial economy of current.

(3) NEW LEISURE

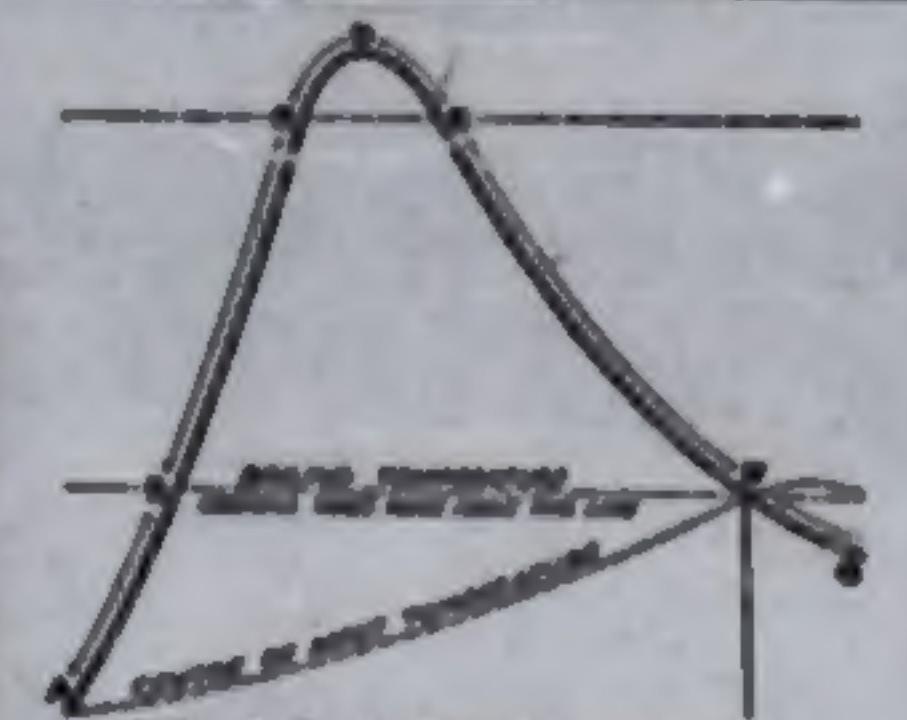

The Flavor Zone Method not only provides perfect cooking results, but absolutely eliminates the necessity, or even the desirability of personal attention, thus completely releasing the housewife from all responsibility once she has placed the meal in the oven—actually thrusting, as it were, newfound leisure upon owners of the Flavor Zone Range.

Flavor Zone Cooking embodies new scientific principles, and it provides better cooking results—accomplished automatically by the new range itself, which makes the cooking as entirely independent of personal supervision.

Not only does the Flavor Zone Range provide a kitchen utility of the greatest beauty, finest engineering and workmanship, but it offers incomparable value, inasmuch as these special features are now available with only a slight increase in price over that of the ordinary electric range.

The Ideal Cooking Curve

The ideal Flavor Zone Cooking Curve, evolved from thousands of scientific culinary experiments in the great Westinghouse Research Laboratory, is now embodied in the automatic operation of the new Westinghouse Flavor Zone Ranges.

It is only necessary to compare foods cooked by the Flavor Zone Method, with those cooked by any other method, to at once recognize the correctness of this new principle and the superiority of its results.

In the Flavor Zone Oven the food is automatically and scientifically subjected to four distinct conditions of heat, as shown on the chart:

- (A-B) the absorption period up to 212° (boiling point).
- (B-C) the pre-cooking period, up to the cooking temperature.
- (C-D-E) the cooking, or browning period, carried in automatically after 212°.
- (E-F) the final roasting period, on receding heat.

If left in oven it will not be overcooked or dried out, but stay hot and ready to serve.

It is essential, in order to insure the superior results of Flavor Zone Cooking, that the cooking process be left entirely to the automatic features of this new range.

Flavor Zone Cooking marks a dramatic advance in the progress of cooking methods and is now being rapidly adopted in institutions, fine hotels and the modernized home.

The Westinghouse Company has prepared a descriptive folder on Flavor Zone Cooking, which it will be pleased to send you on request. Just write to: EF
